Engineering Scholarship
Academic Year 2020-2021

APPLICATION DEADLINE: April 3, 2020
Please return to your high school guidance counselor.

John A. Logan College is committed to providing a high-quality education to students pursuing careers in engineering. The College is currently offering eleven scholarships for district high school students enrolling in the Associate in Engineering Science curriculum. This scholarship will cover tuition for one academic year, with a possibility of an additional year of funding.

To be eligible for this scholarship, students must:

- Be academically ready to enroll in MAT 131 (Calculus I) during the fall 2020 semester.*
- Be willing to complete the Associate of Engineering Science at John A. Logan College.
- Be willing to work with our engineering and mathematics faculty on a regular basis to ensure retention and success.

Successful scholarship recipients will receive:

- Tuition for fall 2020 and spring 2021.
- Personalized attention and assistance from engineering and mathematics faculty.
- Transfer assistance to four-year universities.
- A learning community of engineering students with similar interests and goals.

To apply, please complete the following application and then include a copy of your high school transcript, one letter of recommendation from a mathematics or science teacher, and a recommendation from your high school guidance counselor.
